World Button: Entry Point

This is the entry point for the user. It serves as a fun feature that will incite interest. It also further solidifies the black, white, and orange color scheme. There is a pseudo selector (hover) and an click animation on the world.

Navigation Bar

The buttons allow the user to navigate through the different pages within the website quickly and easily. Again, these buttons also help solidify the aesthetic of the website.

Slider

There are sliders on both the photography and design page. They display the pieces of work as a simple, clean slideshow, which is essential in helping each page serve its purpose.
